Brief Items.

Harrisburg has had three bank failures in about six months.

Quite a smart fall of snow on Thursday last, surprised some persons who had been planting peas etc., the day before.

X Blessed is the man or woman who minds their own business, but they are blessed scarce is what can be truthfully

The wife of Mr. John Dum fell down stairs a few days ago, and fractured her wrist. The accident happened at the White Hall Orphans' school.

B. F. Bealor, Esq., of Juniata town-ship, while splitting rails a few days ago, out one of his feet very badly, since which time he has been confined to the

The train from Cumberland Valley containing emigrants for the West left there last week. We have no doubt many of the persons will wish them-selves back to this State before the year

A subscriber states that several of his hives of bees have died, although the hives are well stocked with honey and the combs are full of brood, and desires to know the cause. Can any of our readers give him the desired information

Mr. R. S. Minich of Newport has lo-eated in this borough, and has opened a meat shop in the basement of Smith's Hotel. He will furnish the market regularly with choice beef, veal, pork, &c. We hope he will receive a liberal share of the public patronage.

Adam Withrow, of Wheatfield twp., was arrested on Thursday last, by Con-stable Eckert, for assaulting his wife. stable Eckert, for assaulting his wife. He was unable to obtain bail that night, and was committed to the care of Sheriff Williamson. The next day he succeeded in getting Ex-Sheriff Rinesmith to go his bail and was consequently released.

Body Found .- A few days since, the dead body of a man was found on the farm owned by John Stewart, in Tyrone twp. The body had evidently laid where found for some months. An investigation was held, and the body was recognized as that of a pauper named David Fulton, who strayed away from the Poor House last fall.

Arrested for Robbery .- On Tuesday last Constable Lesher of New Buffalo, arrested Jacob Sheaffer and John A. Albright charged with the robbery committed a few weeks since at the house of Joseph Wait, Esq., in that place. Albright gave bail for his appearance and Sheaffer was committed to Castle Williamson to await the action of the Grand Jury.

× Played Smash.-On Tuesday afternoon a colt belonging to Jonas Shull, when starting from in front of the court house in this place appeared disposed to travel in a circle. The consequence was that the buggy wheel was crowded under the vehicle very suddenly, and the two occupants got out in a hurry, while the pressure played smash with the wheel, and placed the axle in a condition to need the services of a blacksmith.

Found Murdered .- On Monday of last week, Mr. Jos. T. Miller, residing near Shaeffertown, Lebanon county was found near his house dead. He had been killed by a blow from a club. He had left home shortly previous with $500 in his possession, and when found that was gone. David Risser, a tenant on his farm was arrested the next day, charged with the deed, and on Saturday last John Witters, Miller's son-in-law was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the crime.

A Lively Rat Hunt .- A few days since, a gentleman residing in Wheatfield twp., had some rather unexpected fun. He caught a rat in a box trap and in order to kill it took the trap into the entry of the house so that it could not get away. A young man who happened to be present, went into the house to see the fun.

The rat when let loose naturally looked for some place of refuge and seeing no better one, took up the leg of the young man's pants, and now the fun began in earnest. That young man never before knew how much gymnastic exercise there was in him. He not only danced but he jumped and he shouted "catch him," and then he convulsively grabbed at the spot where the rat was, but always was just in time to miss him. At last the rat reached the place usually covered by the hip pocket, when by lively skirmishing he managed to grab him and again he shouted, "don't you see him?" "Can't you catch him?" "Now get him!" But the rat was too much for them, and slipping from the grab of the excited young man, it made a dive down the other pant leg, and again the dance began.

Again grab after grab was made for the rat as it went from one side of the leg to the other, amid the cry of " why don't you esteh him?" until just as it reached the man's knee, he managed to seize him. As he drew him forth he gave a sigh of relief and vowed if ever he again became a rat hunter, he would tie his pant legs shut at the bottom.

A Duncannon Man's Ride.— "On Wednesday afternoon of last week, a skiff occupied by a single passenger, and nearly filled with water, came along shore. The man stepped out and the water was bailed out. It was an ordinary two oared skiff and the brave passenger was Mr. Owen Ashton, of Duncannon,

Mr. Ashton is a carpenter by trade, but for some time past was a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad. Having been offered employment at his old trade in Smedley's Columbia Agricul-tural works, he accepted and prepared to come. But he was at the same time owner of a pretty little skiff, and he wanted to bring it with him. Thinking that the most natural way to get a skiff down was by water, he launched his frail bark at 8:30, Wednesday morning, and started on his perilous journey, notwithstanding a high river and a high wind-the latter blowing at hurricane speed. The skiff was carried along, sometimes at a startling rate, by wind and current, waves breaking over it, and sometimes nearly filling it.

The most thrilling part of the trip was the passage through Conewago falls, which are nearly a mile long. The spray was almost blinding, and drenched him like a June rain storm. After the passage he was obliged to ball out his boat. From there to Columbia the journey was devoid of special interest or incident-except the run through the Chickies rapids. He arrived safely at shore at Columbia, tired and hungry, about three o'clock in the afternoon, making the trip of nearly forty-five miles in less then seven hours. It was a perilous journey by a brave fellowand it will always possess a lively interest for him.-Columbia Star.

Another Bank Fallure.-The Patriot of 4th inst., says: Dougherty Bros. & Co.'s banking house of Harrisburg, closed yesterday morning owing to the pressure on the deposits and the general stringency of the times. The firm says the disastrous City bank failure last fall was followed by a heavy demand on the Dougherty bank by depositors for their money and the amount of deposits dwindled from $347,000, at the time the City bank failed, to $111,000 when business operations were terminated. The closing up of the State bank on Saturday was another severe blow to the institution, the demands of depositors increasing after that event. Last fall the bank was enabled to surmount the temporary panic by a loan of $25,000 from Bernard M'Grann, of Lancaster, who on Monday had a judgment entered up against William E. Dougherty for the amount loaned. This unexpected movement dispelled all hope that had been entertained of continuing the business, and it was deemed advisable for all concerned to close the affairs of the bank,

William E. Dougherty and James Dougherty have made an assignment to S. W. Simonton, Esq., of all their property for the benefit of those who have suffered by the failure of the bank with which they have for eight years been connected. The main property consists of four farms, comprising in the aggreabout 374 acres, located a few miles east of this city. This real estate is estimated to be worth from $200 to $400 an acre. They also own 400 acres of mountain land, and eight or ten houses in this city, as well as a considerable quantity of ground in the lower end of Harrisburg. They also own a large amount of Harrisburg gas stock. The money that will be realized from the sale of this property, it is believed, will exceed the liabilities of the bank.

When the bank closed there were deposits on hand amounting to about $10,-600, which are being paid out at the rate of ten per cent. to each depositor who presents his claim. A considerable number of depositors received this proportion of their principal yesterday, and the payments will be continued until all the money is exhausted. The collectable claims held by the bank against persons for loans are estimated at $25,000.

Cumberland County.—We copy the fol-lowing from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

On the 6th inst., Andrew Shell, a resident of Lower Allen township committed suicide by hanging himself to one of the rafters in his barn. The father of Mr. Shell committed suicide some years ago, in a similar manner.

One day last week, the constables of the Borough of Mechanicsburg arrested thirteen boys for snow-balling, and brought them before a justice of the peace, who gave them a hearing, and, after reprimanding them for violating an ordinance of the Borough, inflicted a fine or short imprisonment in the Lock-up.

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Edward Sharpe, formerly a clerk in Greesaman & Co.'s store, but now living in Oakville, met with a serious accident, that may result in the loss of an arm. It seems the young man was shooting a cat with a pistol, and after discharging one load at the feline, re-loaded his pistol, but the second charge failing to explode, Sharpe made an, examination of the pistol to see what was the matter, when the charge went off, whilst one of his hands was over the muzzle. The charge passed through his hand, up the forearm coming out near the elbow. At our latest accounts it was impossible to tell whether any of the bones were injured, but little hopes are entertained for saving the arm.

Juniata County. - We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of

On Saturday morning, Johnny, son of Mr. D. M. Sulouff cut off the little finger of his left hand, by getting it under the knife of a fodder cutter.

On Saturday morning, whilst engaged in assisting his father in moving, Banks, son of E. B. Crum, was very badly bruised about the side and breast, by being caught between the wagon and the porch. He was leaning up against the porch. He was leaning up against the porch when the wagon was accidently backed up against him, crushing him to such an extent that he remained unconscious for several moments. Fortunately no bones were broken, and he is now walking about the room.

On the afternoon of the same day, Martin, son of Dr. D. M. Crawford, had his left arm broken by falling out of the same wagon.

On Wednesday evening of last week, at the Stambaugh store, two ½ barrels of fish that had spoiled were left standing outside the store on the pavement over night, the intention being the next day to wheel them down to the river. Dur-ing the night some mackeral cuss came along and stole one of them. We have an idea the next morning when the chap made an examination of his stolen property, he recited a few pages of pro-fane history.

A tramp, in the indulgence of professional deviltry, threw a pretty good size rock through one of the panes of J. E. Shaffer's Store, on Main Street, on Wednesday evening at an early hour, Being asked what he did that for, he replied that he wanted a place to stay over night, but that was a "little too thin," as accommodations such as he counted and got are furnished to all of counted and got are furnished to all of ounted and got are firmshell to all of his pestiferous species. Locking up was well enough, but a good cudgelling in connection with it would have been proper sauce to the entertainment he invited.

On Thursday night another glass was broken in the same place, and it is said, by the same tramp.

For The Bloomfield Times, Notes Concerning the Origin of our Poor-House, and the Farm Therewith con-nected.

The first step in progress, was an act of Act of Assembly passed March 24, A. D., 1810, when Gov. Tho. McKean presided over this common wenth and P. C. Lane was speaker of the Senate, and Simon Snyder speaker of the monwealth and P. C. Lane was speaker of the Senate, and Simon Snyder speaker of the house. This act authorized the purchase of the farm and the erection of sultable buildings for this county then part of Cumberland. It must be remembered that this county i.e., Sherman's Valley was entitled to the Poor House while the other side i.e., Cumberland Valley had the Court House and its appendages for it seems there must always be a jall to a Court house or a Court of Justice convenient to a jall. This I suppose, is necessary to enforce the terrors of the law upon them that do business about the middle of the week during our regular terms, but I am digrossing, and will return to the poor House. Here we find among the ancient archives that the first Board of Directors consisted of Francis Mc-Cowen, Crist Heckendern and Joseph Watson, who bought the present location for $5196.87, and contracted with Robert Cree, at $1900.00 for erection of the building, and with George Leibey for carpenter work for the same at $1850.00 and with Tho. Bedding to do the plastering of said house at $230.00. Total cost of building the first Poor House, $3,980.00. This was burged down when the writer was a boy in the year 1839, mouth of April, weather windy. The second Poor House was immediated to the property of the same of the same of the property of the second Poor House was immediated the property of the second Poor House was immediated. This was burned down when the writer was a boy in the year 1839, mouth of April, weather windy. The second Poor House was immediately rebuilt by Samuel Sherman, Esq., at about $4000.00. The history of the third house is familiar to our heavy tax payers, and therefore its history need not not be written. It is quite interesting to follow up the early history of this institution as it enables us to see what it then was and how it compares with the what it then was, and how it compares with the management of the concern at this date, and as there is just cause of complaint against extravagance, and over charging for services rendered by officials generally in those days. and a sighing for the good honest old times, by a great many fogies and others that are not fogies, let us see how people despised fifthy lucre sixty years ago. First, we find that the physician. Dr. Creigh, who lived within three miles of the lastitution, charged just $240 for his services for one year, now our Record miles of the institution, charged just $340 for his services for one year, now our Board contract with one of our best physicians in the county at $100 per annum, or less than half of Dr. Creigh's salary. Agaib, we find bills of $15 to $17 paid for the removal of one pauper. Now our board would not pay over about one-fourth of such bill, and the poor are better doctored now than when the science of medicine was yet in its infancy, and when surgery had not attained that proficiency in which we find it to-day. The rest of this history, is tho written in the chronicles that remain amongst the "Archives" at the Perry county Poor House to which all are respectfully ceferred.
